

Camp Day Three

Sam and Pam went to camp. At camp they slept in a tent.
The tent was red and had a flap. At night the wind hit the flap.
Flap, flap, flap went the tent. Sam did not like the sound.
Pam said, "It is just the wind. Go to sleep." So Sam went to sleep.
In the morning the sun was up and the wind was gone.
Sam and Pam ran to the lake and had a swim. It was the best trip yet.
